I. Concerning God and Religion

A Mason is obliged by his tenure to obey the moral law, and if he rightly understands the art he will never be a stupid atheist, nor an irreligious libertine. He, of all men, should best understand that God seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh at the outward appearance, but God looketh to the heart. A Mason is, therefore, particularly bound never to act against the dictates of his conscience. Let a man's religion, or mode of worship, be what it may, he is not excluded from the order, provided he believe in the Architect of heaven and earth, and practice the sacred duties of morality. Masons unite with the virtuous of every persuasion, in the firm and pleasing bond of fraternal love; they are taught to view the errors of mankind with compassion, and to strive by the purity of their own conduct to demonstrate the superior excellence of the faith they may profess. Thus Masonry is the center of union between good men and true, and the happy means of conciliating friendship amongst those who must otherwise have remained at a perpetual distance.

II.—Of the Civil Magistrate, Supreme and Subordinate

A Mason is a peaceful subject to the civil powers wherever he resides or works, and is never to be concerned in plots and conspiracies against the peace and welfare of the nation, nor to behave himself undutifully to inferior magistrates. He is cheerfully to conform to every lawful authority; to uphold on every occasion the interest of the community, and zealously promote the prosperity of his own country. Masonry has ever flourished in times of peace, and been always injured by war, bloodshed and confusion, so that kings and princes in every age have been much disposed to encourage the craftsmen on account of their peaceableness and loyalty, whereby they practically answer the cavils of their adversaries, and promote the honor of the fraternity. Craftsmen are bound by peculiar ties to promote peace, cultivate harmony, and live in concord and brotherly love.

III.—Of Lodges

A lodge is a place where Freemasons assemble to work and to instruct and to improve themselves in the mysteries of their ancient science. In an extended sense, it applies to persons as well as to place; hence every regular assembly, or duly organized meeting of Masons is called a lodge. Every brother ought to belong to some lodge, and be subject to its by-laws and the general regulations of the Craft. A lodge may be either general or particular, as will be best understood by attending it, and there a knowledge of the established usages and customs of the Craft may be acquired. From ancient times no master or fellow would be absent from his lodge, especially when warned to appear at it, without incurring a severe censure; unless it appeared to the Master and Wardens that pure necessity hindered him.

The persons made Masons and admitted members of a lodge must be good and true men, free born, and of a mature and discreet age and sound judgment, no bondsmen, no women, no immoral or scandalous men, but of good report.

IV.—Of Masters, Wardens, Fellows and Apprentices

All preferment among Masons is grounded upon real worth and personal merit only, that so the lords may be well served, the brethren not put to shame, nor the royal Craft despised; therefore, no Master or Warden is chosen by seniority, but for his merit. It is impossible to describe these things in writing, and therefore every brother must attend in his place, and learn them in a way peculiar to this fraternity. Candidates may, nevertheless, know that no Master should take an apprentice, unless he has sufficient employment for himself; and unless he is a "perfect youth, having no maim or defect in his body," that may render him incapable of learning the art, of serving his master's lord and of being made a brother and then a fellow-craft in due time, after he has served such a term of years as the custom of the country directs; and that he should be descended of honest parents, that so, when otherwise qualified, he may arrive to the honor of being a warden, and then the master of the lodge, the grand warden, and at length the grand master of all the lodges, according to his merit.

No brother can be a warden unless he has passed the part of a fellow-craft, nor a master until he has acted as warden, nor a grand warden until he has been master of a lodge, nor a grand master until he has been a fellow-craft before his election, who is also to be nobly born or a gentleman of the best fashion, or some eminent scholar or some curious architect or other artist, descended of honest parents, and who is of singularly great merit in the opinion of the lodges.

These rulers and governors, supreme and subordinate, of the ancient lodge, are to be obeyed in their respective stations by all the brethren, according to the old charges and regulations, with all humility, reverence, love and alacrity.

N.B.—In ancient times, no brother, however skilled in the craft; was called a master mason until he had been elected into the chair of the Lodge.

V.—Of the Management of the Craft in Working

All Masons should work honestly on working days, that they may live creditably on holy days; and the time appointed by the law of the land, or confirmed by custom, shall be observed.

The most expert of the fellow-craftsmen shall be chosen or appointed the master, or overseer, of the lord's work, who is to be called master by those that work under him. The craftsmen are to avoid all ill language, and call each other by no disobliging name, but brother or fellow; and to behave themselves courteously within and without the lodge.

The master, knowing himself to be able of cunning, shall undertake the lord's work as reasonably as possible, and truly dispend his goods as if they were his own; nor give more wages to any brother or apprentice than he really may deserve.

Both the master and the mason receiving their wages justly shall be faithful to the lord, and honestly finish their work, whether task or journey; nor put the work to task that hath been accustomed to journey.

None shall discover envy at the prosperity of a brother, nor supplant him nor put him out of his work if he is capable to finish the same; for no man can finish another's work so much to the lord's profit, unless he be thoroughly acquainted with the designs and draughts of him that began it.

When the fellow-craftsman is chosen warden of the work under the master, he shall be true both to master and fellow, shall carefully oversee the work in the master's absence, to the lord's profit; and his brethren shall obey him.

All Masons employed shall meekly receive their wages without murmuring or mutiny, and not desert the Master till the work be finished.

A younger brother shall be instructed in working, to prevent spoiling the materials for want of judgment, and for increasing and continuing of brotherly love.

All the tools used in working shall be approved by the grand lodge.

No laborer shall be employed in the proper work of masonry; nor shall freemasons work with those who are not free, without an urgent necessity, nor shall they teach laborers or unaccepted masons as they should teach a brother or a fellow.

VI.—Of Behaviour, viz.:

1.—In the Lodge While Constituted

You are not to hold private committees or separate conversations without leave from the Master, nor to talk of anything impertinently or unseemly, nor interrupt the Master or Wardens or any brother speaking to the Master; nor behave yourself ludicrously or jestingly while the Lodge is engaged in what is serious and solemn; nor use any unbecoming language upon any pretence whatsoever; but to pay due reverence to your Master, Wardens and fellows and put them to worship.

If any complaint be brought, the brother found guilty shall stand to the award and determination of the Lodge who are the proper and competent judges of all such controversies (unless you carry them by appeal to the Grand Lodge), to whom they ought to be referred, unless a lord's work be hindered the meanwhile, in which case a particular reference may be made; but you must never go to law about what concerneth masonry, without an absolute necessity apparent to the Lodge.

2.—Behaviour After the Lodge is Over and the Brethren Not Gone

You may enjoy yourself with innocent mirth, treating one another according to ability, but avoiding excess, or forcing any brother to eat or drink beyond his inclination, or hinder him from going when the occasion calls him or doing or saying anything offensive, or that may forbid an easy and free conversation, for that would blast our harmony and defeat our laudable purposes. Therefore, no private piques or quarrels must be brought within the door of the Lodge, far less any quarrels about religion, or nations, or state policy, we being only as Masons of the universal religion above mentioned; we are also of all nations, tongues, kindreds and languages, and are resolved against all politics, as what never yet conduced to the welfare of the Lodge nor ever will.

3.—Behaviour when Brethren Meet Without Strangers, but not in a Lodge Formed

You are to salute one another in a courteous manner as you will be instructed, calling each other brother, freely giving mutual instructions as shall be thought expedient, without being over-seen or overheard, and without encroaching on each other, or derogating from that respect which is due to any brother, were he not a Mason; for though all Masons are as brethren upon the same level, yet Masonry takes no honor from a man that he had before; nay, rather it adds to his honor, especially if he has deserved well of the brotherhood, who must give honor to whom it is due and avoid ill-manners.

4.—Behaviour in Presence of Strangers Not Masons

You should be cautious in your words and carriage, that the most penetrating stranger should not be able to discover or find out what is not proper to be intimated; and sometimes you may divert a discourse and manage it prudently for the honor of the Worshipful Fraternity.

5.—Behaviour at Home and in Your Neighborhood

You are to act as becomes a moral and wise man, particularly not to let your family, friends and neighbors know the concerns of the Lodge, etc.; but wisely to consult your own honor, and that of your ancient brotherhood, for reasons not to be mentioned here. You must also consult your health, by not continuing together too late or too long from home after Lodge hours are passed; and by avoiding of gluttony or drunkenness, that your family be not neglected or injured, nor you disabled from working.

6.—Behaviour Towards a Strange Brother

You are cautioned to examine him in such a manner as prudence shall direct you, that you may not be imposed upon by an ignorant, false pretender, whom you are to reject with contempt and derision, and beware of giving him any hints of knowledge.

But if you discover him to be a true and genuine brother, you are to respect him accordingly; and if he is in want you must relieve him if you can, or direct him how he may be relieved. You must employ him some days or else recommend him to be employed. But you are not charged to do beyond your ability; only to prefer a poor brother and a good man and true before any other people in the same circumstances.

Finally—All these charges you are to observe and also those that shall be communicated unto you in another way; cultivating brotherly love, the foundation and keystone, the cement and glory of this ancient fraternity; avoiding all wrangling and quarreling, all slander and backbiting, nor permitting others to slander any honest brother, but defending his character and doing him all good offices, so far as is consistent with your honor and safety and no further. And if any of them do you injury, you must apply to your own or his Lodge; and from thence you may appeal to the Grand Lodge, at the annual communication, as has been the ancient laudable conduct of our forefathers in every nation; never taking a legal course but when the case cannot be otherwise decided; and patiently listening to the honest and friendly advice of Masters and Fellows, when they would prevent you going to law with strangers, or would excite you to put a speedy period to all lawsuits that so you may find the affair of Masonry with more alacrity and success; but with respect to brothers or fellows at law, the Masters and brethren should kindly offer their mediation, which ought to be thankfully submitted to by the contending brethren; and if that submission is impracticable, they must, however, carry on their process of lawsuit without wrath or rancour (not in the common way), saying or doing nothing which may hinder brotherly love and good offices to be renewed and continued, that all may see the benign influence of Masonry, as all true Masons have done from the beginning of the world, and will do to the end of time.

AMEN, SO MOTE IT BE.

31. The Constitution of Grand Lodge may be amended or altered at any annual communication thereof by a two-thirds vote of the members present, provided that notice in writing, stating distinctly the proposed amendment or alteration, shall have been given at the preceding annual communication or shall have been sent to the Grand Secretary not less than sixty days preceding the communication at which the motion is to be considered, and published in the notice paper. Any amendment to the Constitution which has been rejected by Grand Lodge shall not be reconsidered at any time within five years after such rejection, except leave be taken by Grand Lodge by a majority vote, such vote to be taken without debate.

Powers and Duties of the Grand Master

32. The Grand Master, during the interval between the communications of Grand Lodge, may exercise all its executive powers, except the granting of charters. By virtue of these, authority is given him, among other things:

i. To grant dispensations for the formation of new Lodges.

ii. To grant dispensations for the election of an officer or officers at other than the regular times.

xiv. To examine all by-laws of Lodges and amendments thereto, and approve the same if found correct. When so approved they shall have full force and effect.

xv. To appoint such officers as may be required by this Constitution.

33. The Grand Master shall have authority to preside in any Lodge and to order any of his Grand Officers to attend him. His Deputy shall be placed on his right hand and the Master of the Lodge on his left hand. The Grand Wardens shall also act as Wardens for that particular Lodge during his presence; but if the Grand Wardens be not present, then the Grand Master may command the Wardens of the Lodge, or other Master Masons to act as his Wardens "pro tempore."

34. The Grand Master may send his Grand Officers to visit any Lodge.

35. The Grand Master may, through the Grand Secretary, summon any Grand Officer, Committee of Grand Lodge, Lodge or brother to attend him, and to produce the books of such Grand Officer, the charter, books, papers and accounts of such Lodge or the certificate of such brother.

36. If the summons be not complied with and no sufficient reasons given for non-compliance, such summons shall be repeated, as a peremptory summons; if such last summons be not attended to, such Grand Officer, Lodge or brother may be suspended, and the proceeding reported to Grand Lodge.

37. All summonses shall have the impress of the Grand Lodge Seal affixed.

38. The statement of the powers and prerogatives of the Grand Master contained in the foregoing sections shall not be construed as limiting or abridging the powers and prerogatives attached to the office of Grand Master by Masonic law or custom, except in so far as they directly limit or abridge the same.

39. The Grand Master shall not be applied to officially on any business concerning Masons or Masonry, but through the Grand Secretary, or a District Deputy Grand Master.

40. In case of the death, absence or inability of the Grand Master, or of a vacancy in his office, the Deputy Grand Master, Senior Grand Warden and Junior Grand Warden shall in succession assume his prerogatives, powers and duties for such purpose. And should the Grand Master, Deputy Grand Master, Senior Grand Warden and Junior Grand Warden be absent from any communication of Grand Lodge, it shall be ruled by the Grand Officer or Past Grand Officer next in rank and seniority who may be present, and if no effective Grand Officer or Past Grand Officer be present, then by the Master of the senior Lodge represented.

Powers and Duties of the Deputy Grand Master

41. The Deputy Grand Master shall be ex-officio President of the Board of General Purposes.

42. In case of the death, absence or disability of the Grand Master he shall assume his prerogatives, powers and duties.

Powers and Duties of the District Deputy Grand Master

43. The District Deputy Grand Master shall visit officially each Lodge in his district at least once during his term of office.

44. He shall preside in such Lodge upon the occasion of his official visit; examine its books and records and see if they are properly kept; inform himself of the number of members and the punctuality and regularity of their attendance; ascertain the state and condition of the Lodge in all respects and point out any errors he may find in their conduct and mode of working; instruct them in every particular wherein he shall find they may require or desire information and particularly recommend attention to the moral and benevolent principles of Masonry, and caution in the admission of candidates; see that returns have been regularly forwarded to the Grand Secretary's office with all fees and dues that may have accrued; and on refusal or neglect on the part of any Lodge to make such return, he shall immediately report such action to the Grand Master.

45. Should he discover any Masonic error or evil in his district he shall endeavor immediately to arrest the same by Masonic means, and should he judge it expedient he shall immediately report the same to the Grand Master.

46. He shall take possession of the funds and property of any dormant or extinct Lodge in his district under authority of the Grand Master and transfer the same to the Grand Secretary.

47. He shall satisfy himself that the brother recommended in the petition for a new Lodge as the first Master thereof is duly qualified to perform the duties of that office, and for that purpose he may summon that brother to attend for examination, and if he be found qualified shall grant him a certificate of qualification.

48. He shall ascertain whether a Lodge working under a dispensation in his district is provided with suitable Lodge premises, furniture and regalia.

49. He shall prepare, in duplicate, on blanks to be furnished by the Grand Secretary, a statement in tabular form of the condition of each Lodge in his district for the year ending on the 31st day of December, and transmit such report to the Grand Secretary on or before the 15th day of May, to be by him laid before the Grand Master and the Committee on the Condition of Masonry.

50. He shall have power to give or refuse consent for the removal of a Lodge from one place to another within his district.

51. He shall perform such other services and executive duties as may be deputed or entrusted to him by the Grand Master or Grand Lodge.

52. He may appoint a District Chaplain and Secretary to act during pleasure, but they shall have no rank in Grand Lodge by virtue of such office.

Grand Wardens

54. The Grand Wardens, whenever directed, shall attend the Grand Master and act as his Wardens.

55. When the Grand Wardens are in Grand Lodge, no others can fill their places, but in the absence of either, the Grand Master may appoint any Past Grand Warden present to act pro tempore. If no Past Grand Warden be present, the Grand Master may direct any other member of Grand Lodge to act as Grand Warden for that occasion.

Grand Treasurer

56. The Grand Treasurer shall be entrusted with all the moneys and securities of Grand Lodge, including those raised for the general charity, or for any other public use of the Fraternity. He shall keep an account in a book, specifying the respective uses for which the several sums are intended; and shall disburse the same in such manner as Grand Lodge or other proper authority shall direct, and shall produce a statement of receipts and disbursements at every regular communication or when called for by the Committee on Finance.

57. He shall keep in a fireproof vault or in some chartered bank, to be selected by the Committee on Finance, all the moneys, notes, bonds or other securities, that may come into his possession as Grand Treasurer. 188. No Lodge shall initiate more than five candidates in one day, except by dispensation of the Grand Master.

189. No Lodge shall initiate a candidate until he has been balloted for and approved, and no rejected candidate for initiation shall be balloted for in the same or any other Lodge within twelve months from the time of such rejection, except by special dispensation from the Grand Master. The application for such dispensation must be made by the Lodge by an unanimous vote by ballot.

190. No Lodge shall make a Mason for a smaller fee than Forty dollars, or remit or postpone the payment of any part of its initiation fee.

191. No person shall be made a Mason unless he has resided for one year immediately previous to the date of his petition in the jurisdiction of this Grand Lodge and six months in the jurisdiction of the Lodge to which he seeks admission, or unless he produces a certificate of character from the Lodge nearest to the place of his previous residence, with a dispensation granted by the Grand Master.

192. No Lodge shall receive and act upon the petition of any applicant for initiation whose residence may be nearer some other Lodge under this jurisdiction than the one to which application is made, without a dispensation from the Grand Master, and the consent, by resolution in writing of such nearest Lodge, or in the case of a city or town, all nearest Lodges, having concurrent jurisdiction. The jurisdiction extends in every direction half way to the nearest Lodge by the ordinary way of travel.

193. No dispensation shall be issued to a Lodge to receive and act upon the petition for degrees of a person who has not the required qualification of residence unless the application therefor be made by the Lodge by an unanimous vote by ballot, and should such dispensation be issued, the petition shall take the usual course of reference and ballot in the Lodge.

194. When the place of residence of an applicant for initiation within this jurisdiction is nearer to a Lodge in another jurisdiction than to a Lodge within this jurisdiction, such nearer Lodge may receive and act upon the petition of the applicant, provided the Grand Lodge in such other jurisdiction permit the like privilege in this jurisdiction.

Application for Initiation

195. An application for initiation shall be by petition in the prescribed form. This petition shall be signed by the applicant with his full name, and shall be recommended by two members of the Lodge, Master Masons in good standing. It shall be sent to the Secretary of the Lodge and shall be read by him at the first regular meeting after its receipt. It shall be accompanied by the fee required by the by-laws of the Lodge.

196. No application for initiation shall be passed upon by the Lodge, unless notice thereof, stating particularly the name, age, occupation and residence of the candidate shall have been given in the summons for the meeting at which the application is to be considered.

197. The petition on being presented shall be referred to a committee, whose duty it shall be to inquire into the character of the applicant and any other matters relevant to the petition and report thereon to the Lodge at the meeting held after the lapse of not less than eight weeks. Should the committee consider further time necessary, it must report progress. If the Lodge considers there is undue delay, the Worshipful Master may discharge the original and appoint another committee. No petition may be withdrawn after it has been referred to a committee on investigation of character.

198. If the report of the committee is favorable to the candidate, and if proper notice has been given, the ballot must be proceeded with at once. If proper notice has not been given the ballot shall stand over until the next regular meeting, of which proper notice shall be given.

199. It shall be the duty of the Master before the ballot is taken to satisfy himself that he has jurisdiction to initiate the petitioner.

200. When the order of balloting is reached the Worshipful Master shall direct the Junior Warden to invite members in the ante-room to enter the Lodge. After they have entered, the door shall not be again opened until after the order of balloting is finished, except to receive the Tyler's vote.

201. The Senior Deacon shall prepare the ballot box and present the same, first to the Junior Warden, then to the Senior Warden and then to the Master, for inspection. He shall again present the ballot box to these three officers in the reverse order, for the purpose of balloting and then place the ballot box upon the altar. Beginning with the brother seated to the immediate left of the Master, each brother in turn shall approach the altar and after saluting deposit his ballot and retire, after which the Tyler is admitted for the purpose of balloting. When all the members of the Lodge have balloted, the ballot shall be declared closed and presented, first to the Junior Warden, then to the Senior Warden, and then to the Master, for inspection. If the ballot should be unfavorable, the Master shall make no inquiry of the Wardens, but shall destroy it and order a new ballot. If again unfavorable, the usual inquiry shall be made of the Wardens and then the Master shall announce the ballot unfavorable and declare the applicant rejected.

202. If a candidate does not come forward for initiation within six months after his acceptance, another petition and ballot shall be required.

203. In case objection be made in writing by a member of the Craft to the initiation of a candidate after he has been balloted for and accepted, it shall be the duty of the Master to have the cause of such objection investigated by a Committee of three, preferably Past Masters, and if the said Committee consider the objection well made and sustained the candidate shall be declared rejected and the fee paid by him returned. If objection be made to the advancement of a brother, any member of the Lodge may require that such objection be placed in the form of a charge, and if not so placed at the next regular meeting of the Lodge, the objection shall be of no effect.

204. A person shall not be made a Mason in, or admitted a member of a Lodge, if on the ballot, two black balls appear against him. Lodges may by by-law require the unanimous consent of the members present.

205. Every candidate shall, on his initiation, solemnly promise to submit to the Constitution and to conform to all the usages and regulations of the Craft; he must on his initiation sign the by-laws of the Lodge, a copy of which, together with a copy of the Constitution of Grand Lodge, shall then be presented to him.

206. A candidate for initiation upon whom the committee has reported unfavorably, or against whom the ballot has been declared unfavorably by the Master, shall be considered a rejected candidate. No petition shall be received from any such rejected candidate dated within twelve months after the date of such rejection, except by special dispensation from the Grand Master; and in case any candidate is rejected either by unfavorable report or adverse ballot, it shall be the duty of the Secretary to give immediate notice to the Lodges having consurrent jurisdiction.

207. Every candidate initiated in or affiliated with a Lodge becomes a member thereof from the date of his initiation or affiliation and is liable for the regular Lodge dues.

208. Every Lodge shall register with the Grand Secretary the names of the brethren initiated or affiliated therein.

209. Should the Lodge neglect so to do any brother who has not been registered may apply to the Grand Secretary who, on proof being produced that he has paid the full fees of his Lodge, shall give him a certificate which shall entitle him to enjoy the full privileges of the Craft, and the offending Lodge shall be reported to Grand Lodge and shall be proceeded against for neglecting to make the proper return, and for detaining moneys which are the property of Grand Lodge.

210. The Lodge shall secure for every brother initiated therein a Grand Lodge certificate which shall be paid for by the Lodge.

211. No higher degree of Masonry shall be conferred on any brother at a shorter interval than four weeks from the date of his receiving a previous degree, except under dispensation from the Grand Master, nor, in any case, until he has passed an examination in open Lodge in such previous degree.

212. If a Mason shall have been elected to receive the three degrees, and shall have received the first degree or the first and second degrees in one Lodge, he may, at the request of such Lodge, and on its behalf and without additional fees, receive the remaining degree or degrees in another Lodge. No petition, reference or ballot will be necessary in the last named Lodge as the work will be done for the first of which he will be deemed a member. A Lodge shall not confer the F.C. or M.M. degrees or both degrees, on a member of another Lodge from a foreign jurisdiction until the standing of such Lodge has been certified to by the Grand Secretary.

Affiliation

213. No brother shall be admitted a member of a Lodge except upon petition, in the prescribed form, signed by the applicant with his full name, and accompanied by the dimit or certificate of standing of the petitioner and presented in open Lodge at a regular meeting, nor unless notice of his name, occupation and place of abode, and the name and number of the Lodge of which he is or was last a member shall have been embodied in the summons for the next regular meeting, at which the application shall be considered, nor until he has been balloted for as hereinafter provided.

214. No application for affiliation shall be received by any Lodge from a brother beneath the degree of a Master Mason, unless such brother present a dimit from a foreign jurisdiction which authorizes the granting of dimits to members in the other degrees.

215. When a Lodge becomes extinct, any member thereof shall be eligible to be proposed and admitted a member of another Lodge on producing a certificate from the Grand Secretary stating the fact and specifying that the brother has been registered and that his dues are paid.

216. If any member shall be under suspension from his Lodge, or shall withdraw from it without having complied with its by-laws or with the general regulations of the Craft, he shall not be eligible for admission to any other Lodge.

217. Every petition for affiliation shall be recommended by at least two members of the Lodge, Master Masons in good standing, and shall be referred to a committee of three or more appointed by the Master, which committee shall report to the Lodge at a regular meeting held after the lapse of not less than eight weeks, and before the ballot is taken, and should the report be unfavorable, the applicant shall be declared rejected without a ballot.

218. An applicant for affiliation who has been rejected, may apply again to the same or any other Lodge without waiting for any specified time.

Dimits

219. Application for a dimit shall be made in writing and signed by the applicant. The petition shall be presented at the next regular meeting of the Lodge, when, if the applicant's dues are paid and no charges are pending against him, the dimit shall be granted.

220. A dimit shall date from the Lodge record when the same was granted and membership ceases from and after that date.

221. The brother dimitted shall be entitled to a certificate but should the Secretary neglect to furnish it or the brother refuse to receive the same, such neglect or refusal shall not, in any way, invalidate the joint action of the applicant and the Lodge.

222. If any brother shall lose the certificate of his dimission the Secretary of the Lodge shall, upon request and satisfactory proof of such loss, furnish him another certificate with the original date and the fact of re-issuance, which shall be entered upon the record.

223. A dimit shall not be granted to any brother beneath the degree of a Master Mason.

Visitors

224. A brother in good standing, properly vouched for, may visit a Lodge in the discretion of the Master, provided that if objection be made by a member in good standing, the visitor shall not be admitted.

225. No visitor shall be admitted into a Lodge unless he is personally vouched for, or after due examination by two or more of the members present, nor unless he shall have entered his name, Masonic rank, the name of his mother Lodge or the Lodge from which he hails, in a book to be kept by every Lodge for that purpose. During his continuance in the Lodge he is subject to its by-laws.

Lodges of Instruction

226. No Lodge of Instruction shall be held unless by sanction of a Lodge in the district and under a dispensation from the Grand Master. The Lodge giving this sanction, and the brethren to whom such dispensation is granted, shall be answerable for the proceedings of such Lodge of Instruction and responsible that the mode of working there adopted, has received the sanction of Grand Lodge.

227. Notice of the time and place of meeting of a Lodge of Instruction shall be given to the Grand Secretary.

228. A minute shall be kept of all the proceedings and of the names of all the brethren present at a Lodge of Instruction, and of brethren appointed to hold office therein, and such minute shall be produced when called for by the Grand Master or Lodge granting the sanction.

Life Membership

229. Lodges may by by-law admit their members other than honorary members to life membership on such terms as they may determine. For each life member the Lodge shall pay into Grand Lodge a sum as follows:

- (a) After five consecutive years as ordinary dues-paying member $20.00
- (b) After ten consecutive years as ordinary dues-paying member 16.00
- (c) After fifteen consecutive years as ordinary dues-paying member 12.00
- (d) After twenty consecutive years as ordinary dues-paying member 7.00

Which payment shall exempt the Lodge from payment of further dues to Grand Lodge on his behalf.

Provided that Grand Lodge will not grant a life membership certificate to any brother unless he has been a Master Mason in good standing for at least ten years.

230. Upon a life member withdrawing from the Lodge of which he originally became a life member, and joining any other Lodge, such other Lodge shall not be obliged to pay any annual dues to Grand Lodge on his account; nor, in case he becomes a life member of such other Lodge, shall it be obliged to pay a second fee therefor to Grand Lodge, but if such life member does not withdraw, and joins another Lodge, the latter Lodge shall be liable to Grand Lodge for his dues.

231. Life members shall be entitled to all the privileges of the Lodge, and shall be amenable to discipline in the same manner as ordinary members.

Honorary Membership

232. Any brother who may have rendered service to the Craft in general, or to any particular Lodge may, by a three-fourths ballot vote of the members present, be elected an honorary member. Notice of motion for conferring such membership shall be given at a previous meeting and entered on the summons for the meeting at which the vote is to take place. The Lodge must include honorary members in its return to Grand Lodge and pay to Grand Lodge such dues as are payable for ordinary members. A Lodge under dispensation cannot make honorary members.

Non-Payment of Dues

233. A Lodge shall have power to enact by-laws requiring and regulating the payment of Lodge dues and providing a penalty for non-payment thereof, which penalty shall be suspension; but such penalty shall not be inflicted except for the non-payment of at least one year's dues, nor, until the brother shall have been summoned one month previous to pay said dues.

234. A brother suspended for non-payment of dues shall be immediately restored without a ballot upon payment within one year from the date of suspension of all arrears owing at the time of his suspension and such further sum, if any, as the Lodge may require not exceeding the amount of regular Lodge dues for the period he was suspended.

235. If such payment be not made within one year from the date of suspension, he can only be reinstated by a majority vote taken by means of written ballots. The petition must be presented at a regular meeting of the Lodge and cannot be acted upon before the next regular meeting nor until notice of such petition has been inserted in the notice calling the meeting. On a petition for reinstatement the Master shall appoint a committee to inquire into the character of the applicant and any other matters relevant to the petition and report thereon to the Lodge at the next regular meeting.

236. A Lodge may remit dues to any member provided a notice of motion for such remission has been given at the regular meeting previous to that at which the vote is taken.

237. When a Mason is suspended for non-payment of dues, in this or any other jurisdiction, he is, during such suspension, deprived of all privileges of Masonry in this jurisdiction. A Mason under suspension is not entitled to receive Masonic charity or Masonic burial.

Miscellaneous

238. The priority of Lodges is derived from the number of their warrant as recorded in the books of Grand Lodge. No Lodge shall be acknowledged, nor any of its officers admitted into Grand Lodge, nor any of its members entitled to partake of the general charity or other Masonic privileges, unless it has been regularly constituted and registered.

239. Every Lodge shall annually, fourteen days before the Annual Communication, send a list to the Grand Secretary of the names of the Master, Wardens and Past Masters of the Lodge who are entitled to attend Grand Lodge. No brother shall be entitled to vote in Grand Lodge unless his name appears in such list.

240. Every Lodge shall have all official communications from the Grand Master or Grand Secretary, under the seal of Grand Lodge, read in open Lodge at the regular meeting following their receipt, which communication shall be noted in the minutes of the Lodge.

241. Requests to confer a degree or degrees on candidates from without the jurisdiction of this Grand Lodge may be received only through the Grand Secretary at the request of the Grand Lodge holding jurisdiction over the Lodge making the request.

242. A brother who has attained the rank of Past Master under the jurisdiction of any Grand Lodge, recognized by this Grand Lodge, shall, upon affiliation with any Lodge under the jurisdiction of this Grand Lodge, be entitled to retain such rank.

243. A Lodge may require from its Treasurer or Secretary, or both, security for the funds committed to their care.

244. No member of a Lodge shall under any circumstances give a certificate or recommendation to enable a Mason to proceed from Lodge to Lodge as a pauper, or in any itinerant manner to apply to Lodges for relief.

245. The clothing, regalia and furniture of every Lodge belong to and are the property of the Master, Wardens and brethren of such Lodge, while legally holding the charter, but should such Lodge surrender its charter or the same be cancelled, all of its property of every kind shall revert to and become the property of Grand Lodge.

246. A Lodge has jurisdiction over its own members wherever they may reside, and also over all Masons, whether affiliated or not who reside within its territorial jurisdiction; and non-affiliation of a brother is no bar to his suspension.

247. Every non-affiliated Mason, who having resided one year within this jurisdiction, shall refuse or neglect to make application for membership to some Lodge therein, shall not be entitled to the benefit of the benevolent fund, or to Masonic burial, or to take part in any Masonic ceremony, public or private, or to any Masonic privilege whatever, nor can he be permitted to visit any one Lodge in the town or place where he resides more than twice during his secession from the Craft.

248. A Lodge cannot deprive a member of his privileges until after due trial and conviction.

249. Suspended members are deprived of all their rights and privileges.

250. The suspension of a Lodge places all its members under Masonic disability, except by dispensation to be granted by the Grand Master.

251. Should a member of a Lodge in this Jurisdiction desire to affiliate with another Lodge, and not wish to dimit from his Lodge until he has been accepted in such other Lodge, such Lodge may ballot on his petition for affiliation, if accompanied by a certificate of standing for the purpose of transferring membership, and if the ballot be favorable he shall become a member of such other Lodge upon the receipt of his dimit from his former Lodge by the Secretary, within six months of the date of the ballot, otherwise only after another ballot.

252. A Lodge may by resolution ask permission to surrender its charter or dispensation. Notice of this resolution must have been given at a regular meeting and must appear in the summons for the meeting at which it is proposed to take action. The resolution must be supported by at least three-fourths of the members present when the vote is taken before the Master can declare its adoption. The assent of Grand Lodge shall be required before the surrender of a charter shall be considered final. The assent of the Grand Master shall be sufficient in the case of a dispensation.

253. If a Lodge is dissolved, its warrant and records shall be delivered up to the Grand Secretary.

254. If the membership of a Lodge be reduced below seven it shall cease to meet and the warrant, books and papers shall be delivered up to the Grand Secretary.

255. The expense of procuring the clothing and jewel for the District Deputy Grand Master shall be paid by the Grand Lodge.

256. For the neglect or violation of any duty imposed upon a Lodge in this Constitution its Charter may be suspended; and for the neglect or violation of any duty imposed upon a Secretary, his Lodge shall be held responsible.

Amalgamation of Lodges

257. Two or more Lodges may amalgamate under one warrant. Each Lodge shall adopt a resolution to that effect, and appoint a committee of three members to arrange the terms therefor. Notice of such resolution shall be given at a preceding meeting in each Lodge.

258. The report of the Committee, if favorable, shall recommend for adoption the name and number of one of the Lodges and the time and place for such amalgamation. On the approval of the report of the committee by the Lodges a copy thereof shall be mailed to the last known address of each member of said Lodges about to be amalgamated, and unless seven or more members of either of the Lodges notify the Secretary of their Lodge, in writing, of their objection to such amalgamation, within ten days from the date of mailing such notices, it shall be carried into effect as soon as the Grand Master shall approve of such amalgamation. The Grand Master, District Deputy Grand Master, or such other brother as the Grand Master may appoint, shall carry the amalgamation into effect by attending at the time and place named, when the members of the Lodge present shall choose, by ballot, the elective officers who, with the officers appointed by the Master-elect, shall be immediately installed or invested, if present.

259. The Secretary shall prepare and deliver to the Master-elect a list of the members of the amalgamated Lodge, which shall be signed by the Worshipful Master and Secretary, and forwarded to the Grand Secretary within one month after the amalgamation. Every member of any of the Lodges amalgamated shall be a member of the amalgamated Lodge, but any member may pay all his dues and withdraw before such amalgamation has been effected. Any member under suspension for any cause shall have the same rights in the amalgamated Lodge as he would have had in his own Lodge had such amalgamation not taken place.

Instituting a New Lodge

260. Every application for a dispensation to form a new Lodge must be made by petition, which on application will be supplied by the Grand Secretary, and the same shall be signed by at least seven Master Masons in good standing, residing in this jurisdiction and giving the name and number of the Lodge to which they respectively belong. The petition must be recommended by the nearest Lodge, or, where there are two or more Lodges meeting in the same town or city, then by a majority of said Lodges, when the petition accompanied by the written recommendation or recommendations shall be transmitted to the District Deputy Grand Master, who is to forward it, with his recommendation or opinion thereon, to the Grand Secretary to be submitted to the Grand Master. If the prayer of the petition be granted, the Grand Master may issue a dispensation authorizing the brethren to meet as a Lodge until the 15th day of May, preceding the date of the next Annual Communication, when the dispensation, together with the historical and Tyler's registers and minute book shall be returned to the Grand Secretary. Upon the presentation of a petition for a charter and on receipt of a certificate from the District Deputy Grand Master, certifying that the proposed Master and Wardens of the Lodge under dispensation are fully competent to confer the three degrees of Masonry, and should an examination of their books and records prove satisfactory, Grand Lodge may order the issue of a charter to such Lodge and assign it such name (which shall not be the name of a living person) and number on the register as shall be deemed proper and such Lodge shall be duly constituted as soon as convenient by the Grand Master or a representative appointed by him for that purpose.

261. If, in the opinion of the Grand Master, the recommendation of the nearest Lodge or Lodges be unreasonably withheld, he shall have power to waive such recommendation.

262. A motion recommending a new Lodge is in order at a regular meeting of the nearest Lodge, without previous notice.

263. The recommendation from the nearest Lodge or Lodges required for a petition must be passed in open Lodge upon regular resolution and signed by the Master and Secretary of the Lodge with the seal of the Lodge attached, and in no case shall be given without such resolution and signature.

264. Either a dimit or a certificate of good standing of each petitioner must be forwarded with the petition to the Grand Secretary.

265. No brother shall be a member of more than one Lodge in this jurisdiction at the same time (except as an honorary or life member). This ruling shall not apply to members of a Lodge under dispensation. Should a charter, however, be granted to such Lodge under dispensation, membership in the senior Lodge shall terminate ipso facto, and it shall be the duty of the Secretary, as soon as the Lodge receives its charter, to notify the Secretary of the senior Lodge that the brother's membership in such has terminated according to the terms of this section and of the Secretary of the senior Lodge to issue a dimit and make record accordingly in the books of his Lodge, such dimit to be forwarded to the Secretary of the junior Lodge. Unless his dues are paid in full to the senior Lodge, to the date of the termination of his membership, the newly chartered Lodge shall be responsible therefor and the brother be liable for suspension therein as if dues were owing such Lodge.

266. No warrant for a new Lodge shall be granted until there is furnished by the District Deputy Grand Master a certificate to the effect that the Lodge, which has been working under dispensation, is provided with suitable Lodge premises, furniture and regalia.

267. Lodges under dispensation may be represented in Grand Lodge at the Annual Meeting at which a warrant is obtained, but not by a proxy.

268. Only the names of the brethren, who have signed the petition for a new Lodge and who have submitted therewith either a dimit or a certificate of good standing, shall be entered upon the warrant as charter members.

Public Processions

269. No public procession, except a Masonic funeral, shall on any pretence, be allowed, without the permission of the Grand Master.

270. If any brother shall attend as a Mason, clothed in any of the jewels or badges of the Craft, at any public procession, except a Masonic funeral, without the permission of the Grand Master, he shall be liable to suspension. And if any Lodge shall so offend, it shall be suspended until Grand Lodge shall determine thereon.

Endow him with a competency of Thy divine wisdom, that, assisted by the secrets of this our Masonic art, he may be the better enabled to display the beauties of true godliness to the honor and glory of Thy holy name—"So mote it be."

Invocation—Second Degree

We supplicate the continuance of Thine aid, O merciful God, on behalf of ourselves and of him who kneels before Thee. May the work begun in Thy name be continued to Thy glory and evermore established in us by obedience to Thy holy precepts—"So mote it be."

Invocation—Third Degree

Almighty and Eternal Being, the glorious Architect and Ruler of the Universe, at whose creative fiat all things first were made, we the frail creatures of Thy Providence, humbly implore Thee to pour down on this convocation assembled in Thy Holy Name, the continual dew of Thy blessing; more especially we beseech Thee, to impart Thy Grace to this Thy servant, who offers himself a candidate to partake with us the mysterious secrets of a Master Mason; endue him with such fortitude that in the hour of trial he fail not; but pass him safely under Thy protection through the valley of the shadow of death, that he may finally arise from the tomb of transgression to shine as the stars for ever and ever. —“So mote it be.”

THE CHARGES

Charge to Newly Initiated Candidate

As you have now passed through the ceremony of your initiation, allow me to congratulate you on being admitted a member of our ancient and honorable society. Ancient, as having subsisted from time immemorial, and honorable because by a natural tendency it conduces to make all those honorable who are strictly obedient to its precepts. Indeed no institution can boast a more solid foundation than that on which Freemasonry rests—“the practice of every social and moral virtue,” and to so high an eminence has its credit been advanced, that in every age, monarchs themselves have been promoters of the art; have not thought it derogatory from their dignity to exchange the sceptre for the gavel; have patronized our mysteries and joined our assemblies. As a Mason, I would first recommend to your most serious contemplation the volume of the sacred law, charging you to consider it the unerring standard of truth and justice, and to regulate your actions by the divine precepts which it contains. Therein you will be taught the important duties you owe to God, to your neighbor and to yourself. To God, by never mentioning His name but with that awe and reverence which are due from the creature to the creator, by imploring His aid on all your lawful undertakings, and by looking up to Him in every emergency for comfort and support; to your neighbor by acting with him on the square; by rendering him every kind office which justice or mercy may require, by relieving his distresses, by soothing his afflictions, and by doing to him, as in similar cases, you should wish he should do unto you; and to yourself, by such a prudent and well regulated course of discipline as may best conduce to the preservation of your corporeal and mental faculties in their fullest energies; thereby enabling you to exert those talents wherewith God has blest you, as well as to His glory as to the welfare of your fellow creatures.

As a citizen of the world, I am next to enjoin you to be exemplary in the discharge of your civil duties by never proposing, or at all countenancing, any act that may have a tendency to subvert the peace and good order of society; by paying due obedience to the laws of any state which may for a time become the place of your residence or afford you its protection; and above all, by never losing sight of the allegiance due to the sovereign of your native land, ever remembering that nature has implanted in your breast a sacred and indissoluble attachment to that country from which you derived your birth and infant nurture.

As an individual I am further to recommend the practice of every domestic as well as public virtue. Let prudence direct you; temperance chasten you; fortitude support you; and justice be the guide of all your actions, and be especially careful to maintain in their fullest splendor those truly Masonic ornaments benevolence and charity.

Still, however, as a Mason there are other excellencies of character to which your attention may be peculiarly and forcibly directed; among the foremost of these are secrecy, fidelity and obedience.

Secrecy may be said to consist in the inviolable adherence to the obligations you have entered into, never improperly to reveal any of those Masonic secrets which have now been, or may at any future time be, entrusted to your keeping, and cautiously to shun all occasions which might inadvertently lead you so to do.

Your fidelity must be exemplified by a strict observance of the Constitution of the Fraternity; by adhering to the ancient landmarks of the Order; by never attempting to extort, or otherwise unduly obtain the secrets of a superior degree, and by refraining to recommend any one to a participation of our secrets, unless you have strong ground to believe that, by a similar fidelity, he will ultimately reflect honor on our choice.

So must your obedience be proved by a close conformity to all our laws and regulations; by prompt attention to all signs and summonses; by modest and correct demeanour whilst in the Lodge; by abstaining from every topic of religious or political discussion; by ready acquiescence in all votes and resolutions duly passed by the brethren, and by perfect submission to the Master and his Wardens whilst acting in the discharge of their respective offices.

And, as a last general recommendation, let me exhort you to dedicate yourself to such pursuits as may enable you to retain respect in your rank in life, be useful to mankind, and an ornament to the society of which you have been this day admitted a member; to devote your leisure hours more especially to the study of such of the liberal arts and sciences as may lie within the compass of your attainment, and without neglecting the ordinary duties of your station, to consider yourself called upon to make a daily advancement in Masonic knowledge.

From the very commendable attention which you appear to have given to this charge, I am led to hope that you will duly appreciate the excellence of Freemasonry, and imprint indelibly on your mind the sacred duties of "truth, of honor and of virtue."

Charge to the Newly Passed Candidate

Brother,—Being advanced to the Second Degree of Masonry, we congratulate you on your preferment. The internal and not the external qualifications of a man are what Masonry regards. As you increase in knowledge, so you will consequently improve in social intercourse. It is unnecessary for me to recapitulate the duties, which, as a Mason, you are now bound to discharge, or to enlarge on the necessity of a strict adherence to them, as your own experience must have established their value. It may be sufficient to observe that as your past behaviour and regular deportment have merited the honor which we have conferred, in your new character it is expected that you will not only conform to the principles of the Order but steadily persevere in the practice of every virtue. The study of the liberal arts, that valuable branch of education which tends so effectually to polish and adorn the mind, is earnestly recommended to your consideration—especially geometry, which is established as the basis of our art. Geometry or Masonry, originally synonymous terms, is of a divine or moral nature enriched with the most useful knowledge, so that while it proves the wonderful properties of nature, it demonstrates the more important truths of morality.

As the solemnity of our ceremonies requires a serious deportment, you are to be particularly attentive to your behaviour at our regular assemblies. You are to preserve our ancient usages and customs sacred and inviolable, and induce others, by your example, to hold them in due veneration.

The laws and regulations of the Order you are strenuously to support and maintain. You are not to palliate or aggravate the offences of the brethren, but in the decision of every trespass against our rules judge with candor, admonish with firmness and reprehend with mercy.

As a Craftsman, in our private assemblies, you may offer your sentiments and opinions on such subjects as are regularly introduced in the lecture, under the superintendence of an experienced Master who will guard the landmarks against encroachment. By this privilege you may improve your intellectual powers; qualify yourself to become a useful member of society; and like a skillful Craftsman, strive to excel in what is good and great.

You are to encourage industry and reward merit; supply the want and relieve the necessity of brethren and fellows to the utmost of your power and ability, and on no account wrong them or see them wronged, but apprise them of approaching danger, and view their interests as inseparable from your own.

Such is the nature of your engagements as a Craftsman; and these duties you are now bound, by the most sacred ties, to observe.

Charges to the Newly Raised Candidate

Brother,—Your zeal for the institution of Freemasonry, the progress you have already made, and your conformity to our general regulations, have pointed you out as a fit object of esteem and favor. In the character of a Master Mason, you are henceforth authorized to correct the errors and irregularities of your younger brethren, and guard them against a breach of fidelity. To improve the morals and correct the manners of men in society ought to be your constant care. You are to inculcate universal benevolence, and by the regularity of your own behaviour, afford the best example for the conduct of others. The ancient landmarks of the Order you are to preserve sacred and inviolable, and never suffer an infringement of our customs, or a deviation from established usages.

Duty, honor and gratitude now bind you to your trust; let no motive, therefore, ever make you swerve from your duty, but be true and faithful, and imitate the example of that celebrated artist whom you have once represented. Endeavor, in a word, to convince the world that merit has been your title to our privileges, and that on you our favors have not been undeservedly bestowed.

RECEPTION OF VISITORS

Ceremonies to be Observed When a Grand Officer Visits a Lodge

When the Worshipful Master is informed that a Grand Officer or Past Grand Officer (elective) of this Grand Lodge, or a Grand Officer or Past Grand Officer (elective) of a Grand Lodge recognized by this Grand Lodge intends to visit the Lodge, he shall ascertain from him, informally, whether he desires to be received without form or in form. It is not necessary that any formal announcement of the presence of the Grand

Officer be made before he presents himself at the door. The Worshipful Master, being informed as to the pleasure of the visiting officer, will then proceed in the manner following :

Reception in Form

In this case, the officers will be directed by the Worshipful Master to attend on the visiting Grand Officer. If it be the Grand Master, or the Deputy Grand Master exercising the powers of Grand Master, he is to be preceded by two Stewards with white rods, and is to be supported on either hand by the Deacons with rods. If it be any other elective Grand Officer, he is to be preceded by two Stewards with rods. If any other Grand Officers are present with the chief visiting Grand Officer, they will take their appropriate places in the procession. Visiting brethren, not officers, who may accompany the visiting Grand Officer, will follow the Stewards.

It is proper for the Worshipful Master to appoint a committee of one or two Past Masters of the Lodge to salute the visiting Grand Officer before he enters the Lodge, and to present him to the Worshipful Master. The brethren so appointed will take their places immediately behind the Stewards. The Deacons will stand within the door of the Lodge and assume their duties as soon as the Grand Officer enters the door.

When the Grand Officer signifies his readiness, the procession will approach the door of the Lodge, and the Tyler, without any alarm, will open the door, advance a short space into the Lodge and at once and without awaiting permission to speak, will announce in a loud and distinct voice as follows:

The Most Worshipful the Grand Master, the Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master, or the Right Worshipful District Deputy Grand Master, as the case may be. He will then retire and close the door when the visiting officer has entered.

As soon as the announcement is made, the Worshipful Master will call up the Lodge.

The procession will proceed to the west side of the Altar, and will open the ranks so that the visiting officer may stand in front of the Altar.

He will then be introduced and saluted with the Grand Honors.

The Grand Honors are as follows:

Nine for the Grand Master and Past Grand Masters.

Seven for the Deputy Grand Master, District Deputy Grand Masters, Past Deputy Grand Masters, and Past District Deputy Grand Masters.

Five for all other elected Grand Officers, and elected Past Grand Officers, and Three for all other distinguished brethren.

The Worshipful Master will then address the visiting Grand Officers with words of welcome, and invite him to the East. The visitors will then take such place as may be indicated by the Worshipful Master. When the visiting Grand Officer approaches the East, the Worshipful Master will vacate his station and deliver the gavel. When a Grand Officer presides in a subordinate Lodge, the Worshipful Master of the Lodge has the right to a seat at his right hand.

Reception Without Form

In this case, a Past Master will be appointed to attend the visiting officer and introduce him. The officer conducts him to the west of the Altar, and says:

Worshipful Sir, I have the pleasure of introducing to you Most Worshipful Brother or Right Worshipful Brother

The Worshipful Master calls up the Lodge, and says:

Most Worshipful Brother or Right Worshipful Brother, it gives me pleasure to introduce to you the members of Lodge, No., and to welcome you among us. Kindly take a seat in the East.

Reception of Visiting Brethren

When a brother visits a Lodge, and has been examined and vouched for, the Worshipful Master will send a Past Master or the Senior Deacon to introduce him. The officer conducts him to the west of the Altar, and says:

Worshipful Sir, I have the pleasure of introducing to you Brotherof Lodge, No.

The Worshipful Master calls up the lodge, and says :

Brother, it gives me pleasure to introduce to you the members of Lodge, No., and to welcome you to a seat among us. We meet on, and shall be very glad to welcome you to any of our meetings.

If the visitor is a Worshipful Master or a Past Master, he should be invited to a seat in the East.

The Worshipful Master should see that the proper courtesies are extended to visiting brethren, to make them feel that they are welcome.

Note.—Upon the entrance of a Past Master of the Lodge the brethren should be called up out of courtesy and the Worshipful Master shall invite him to a seat in the East.
